EVERY CITY

must have a Directory not only to give the names and addresses of its citizens, but also to give that character of progressiveness that would record the name of its people for historical purposes. Every one has forefathers, these forefathers have made the history of this country, some day you will be the forefather and your descendants can visualize your life's work quicker through the registration in the Directory of your time than in any other way. The BIOGRAPHICAL HISTORY OF THE MASSES IS CONTAINED IN THE CITY DIRECTORY AND NO OTHER PLACE. That stamps its importance to the family. To make your history, watch your Directory registration to see that it accurately records your position in life from year to year.

CAMBRIDGE

The University City, the Home City, Industrial and Transportation Center, Merchandising and Financial Center

Compiled by H. A. Manning Company, with Assistance of Cambridge Chamber of Commerce

The publishers of this Directory consider it advisable and desirable to set forth the following paragraphs, in as simple and attractive a manner as possible, to enable the readers of these descriptive pages to comprehend as many of the outstanding features of Cambridge as limited space permits. The local resident, the visitor, and the distant reader about Cambridge wishes to gain an impression of Cambridge as well as to have at hand a statistical reference regarding the city and its people. It is the publisher's aim to portray as much of Cambridge's charm and greatness as is consistent with facts. We believe with John Cotton Dana, the great librarian, that "Good citizenship springs from a knowledge about one's own community." The teachings of the City Map and the City Directory about localities, districts, street locations, street changes, growth of sections, and general city changes are of great importance to property owners, old residents, new residents, and school students. Racial characteristics of names in the Directory enable the consultant to gain a very comprehensive knowledge of the inhabitants of the city and many other educational facts. Notable men all through history have contributed their philosophy as to the value of knowledge about the "home town." Here is one from Abraham Lincoln: "I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives. I like to see a man live so that his place will be proud of him." In studying the following, remember that the Cambridge City Directory disseminates this information far and wide where this Directory represents Cambridge in the Free Directory Library Exchange System of North America. The Cambridge City Directory, with over 1,000 closely printed pages, is the City of Cambridge in book form; its family and social life, business and industrial life is portrayed in great detail. The publishers invite and accept constructive criticism and suggestions for the improvement of the Directory for the benefit of Cambridge and all interested.

LOCATION—Cambridge is known world-wide as "The University City." It is, however, much more than an educational city. It has 500 industries and is a great warehousing center for merchandise. It is one of the leading transportation centers of this section of the country. Cambridge is very near to the center of the Metropolitan District of Massachusetts and is bound on the South by the Charles River and Brighton Section of Boston; the West by Watertown and Belmont; on the North and East by Arlington, Somerville and Charlestown. The distance is 4 miles from the center of the Boston business district to the Central Square district of Cambridge. Distances to important points in Eastern United States are as follows: Portland 104 miles, Concord 72, Hartford 110, Providence 42, Worcester 40, New Bedford 65, Lowell 32, Bangor 246, Springfield 93, Greenfield 98, Burlington 277, Albany 179, Schenectady 194, New York 220, Philadelphia 310, Atlantic City 356, Washington 451, Buffalo 467, White Mountains 160, Elmira 368, Cape Cod 70, Bar Harbor 271, Montreal 320, Chicago 1025, Boston Harbor 5.

POPULATION—The Sixteenth U. S. Census (1940) shows the population of Cambridge to be 110,879. The trend of population since 1790 is as follows: 1790, 2,115; 1800, 2,453; 1810, 2,523; 1820, 3,295; 1830, 6,072; 1840, 8,409; 1850, 15,215; 1860, 26,060; 1870, 39,634; 1880, 52,669; 1890, 70,028; 1900, 91,886; 1910, 104,839; 1920, 109,694; 1930, 113,643. The total colored population at present is 5,419. American born population 78%. Predominating nationalities of foreign born residents are English, Scotch, Irish, Italian, Portugese, Polish, French Canadian descent. The total white population is currently estimated at 106,000; native 74,000; foreign born 32,000. Number of families, 27,448. Dwellings, 15,014. Population per family, 4.05. Population per dwelling, 7.41. Population within 25 miles, 3,000,000; 45 miles, 4,300,000.

TOPOGRAPHY—Much of Cambridge lies North of the Charles River Basin which it borders for 4 miles. This Basin has been greatly improved and beautified with parkways along its shores adding distinction and charm to the city. The city occupies 6.535 square miles and is 4¾ miles East and West and 2 1/5 miles North and South. The maximum altitude above sea level is 77 feet. There is scarcely a foot of land in Cambridge that cannot be developed for city use. There are many fine residence streets with beautiful homes and apartment buildings and, in Cambridge, homes can be found to fit all pocketbooks. There are many fine streets traversing the city and many great arteries of travel pass through Cambridge.

VIEW OF HARVARD SQUARE SECTION OF CAMBRIDGE NORTHWARD

HISTORICAL—Cambridge was settled in 1630. It was incorporated a city in 1846, original shire town of Middlesex County, and houses the County Offices of Administration. There is much of interest to the lover of history in Cambridge, which calls to mind some verse by Oliver Wendell Holmes:

> "Know Old Cambridge? Hope you do.
> Born there? Don't say so! I was too.
> The nicest place that ever was seen,
> Colleges red and Common green,
> Sidewalks brownish with trees between."

It might prove worth while to translate this into Modern Cambridge logic, thus:

> "Know NEW Cambridge? Hope you do.
> In business there? I am too!
> The busiest place you ever have known!
> Industry, business, and commerce have grown,
> Modern Cambridge, we're proud of you."

In between the periods that represent the above verses is an intensely interesting transition of a good old New England town, with its college atmosphere built around Harvard University of 300 years ago, to a modern great city with its 41 private educational institutions, over 500 industries and 1500 merchandising outlets. It can properly be said that the history of Cambridge should begin at the Old Burying Ground at Harvard Square. Visualizing from this point the small beginnings of this city is easy if one has the time. There are many historical markers in Cambridge of which we can only mention a few for lack of space:—

1. Fort Washington, foot of Allston Street near Charles River.
2. Site of Fort No. 1 where Riverside Press now stands on Blackstone Street.
3. Site of Fort No. 2 on left hand side of Putnam Avenue below Franklin Street, built 1775 by order of George Washington.
4. Site of Inman House, Inman Street near City Hall. General Putnam had headquarters in 1775 in house which stood here.
5. Apthorpe House, Bishop Place, between Plympton and Linden Streets, built in 1760. General Burgoyne and staff officers confined here as prisoners of war in 1777.
6. Site of first school house in Cambridge, Holyoke St, first school house built in 1648.
7. Site of Governor Dudley House, Northwest corner Dunster and South Streets. The founder of Cambridge and Governor of Massachusetts lived here in 1630.
8. John Hicks House, Southeast cor Dunster and Winthrop St, built 1762. Hicks was killed by British soldiers Apr 9, 1775 and the house was used as Army office by General Putnam.
9. Site of first meeting house in Cambridge, Southwest corner Dunster and Mt. Auburn Streets. Erected 1632.

10. Site of Spreading Chestnut Tree, Brattle near Story Street where village smithy stood, made famous in Longfellow's poem.

11. Washington Elm, Garden corner Mason Street. Washington took command American Army under this tree July 3, 1775.

12. Cambridge Common where centers much of the early history of this section. Cannon marker for guns used by Continental Army in siege of Boston during American Revolution.

There are hundreds of other markers and historic spots most of which are recorded by the Cambridge Historical Society.

As Cambridge took a leading place in the making of history in the early days of America it is so doing today at an accelerated pace. In the summer and fall of 1936 Harvard University held its Tercentenary Celebration, entertaining visitors from all over the world. Visitors to Cambridge of a quarter century ago would hardly recognize it today because of its modernization in streets, boulevards, parks, buildings and mode of transportation. In some ways it stands first among New England's cities and combining all its advantages it can be said to rank among the leading cities of this section of the country.

INDUSTRIAL—Industry has not superseded education in Cambridge. It is still a University City to a greater extent than ever before. Industry has, however, replaced education as the most prominent characteristic of the city. Industry is not new to Cambridge. The only thing new is its tremendous growth, and its position among New England cities as the third in industry. Industry in Cambridge is almost as old as education. Here the first printing press in the colonies operated, the birth of the great publishing industry of America was here; the first center aisle passenger coach was produced here. Great glassware factories employed 500 as early as 1850. Modern transportation and the reclamation of 2 square miles of tide-covered lowlands in the city are two factors that have had much to do with the growth of industrial Cambridge. The transition to an industrial city began in the 1870's when the reclaiming of the lowlands began. Today, there are over 500 establishments employing 20,000, with annual wages paid of $20,700,000, with products annually of $138,000,000 for 1934. It stands first in the country as a confectionery center, and very prominent in the manufacture of soap, bread and other bakery products, printing and publishing, rubber goods, rubber boots and shoes, electrical machinery, apparatus and supplies, foundry and machine shop products; furniture. There is also produced dictionaries, transformers and radio apparatus, oil burners, radio sets and many other products among which are as follows:

This is an impressive list. The reclaimed land from the lowlands of the city of 40 years ago still offers opportunities for further industrial expansion. Cambridge can double its present industrial output and bids fair to do so in the next score of years. Cambridge has everything to work with in labor market, transportation, and facilities. There is a customer market of 30,000,000 within 500 miles to consume the products made in Cambridge. For further information write the publishers of this Directory, or the Cambridge Industrial commission.

MERCANTILE—The retail trade area of Cambridge is very competitive. Within 5 miles of the center of the retail district is a 250,000 customer district which is rapidly growing in population. The wholesale territory covers more than 2,000,000 population. There are 1,494 retail establishments employing 5,518; with 1,258 proprietors. The annual payroll is $6,751,819. The annual business transacted is $54,904,467. There are 17 major groups of retail distribution. Cambridge stands fifth among Massachusetts cities per capita of retail trade. There are 113 wholesale establishments with 1944 employees receiving annual wages of $3,907,000. Annual sales, $50,000,000. Total retail and wholesale annual business $104,465,000. The retail distribution of Cambridge is split up into two principal districts of Central Square and Harvard Square located on Massachusetts Avenue about one mile apart. There are lesser districts at Kendall Square, Inman Square, Porter Square and Lechmere Square; also much business for some miles along Massachusetts Avenue which is gradually developing to make this Avenue a great retail shopping thoroughfare.

BUSY CENTRAL SQUARE

There are more than 7 miles of store frontage along the principal business streets as well as 2 miles scattered, making a total of over 9 miles of store frontage in the city.

FINANCIAL—The financial institutions of Cambridge are 15 in number with 4 savings banks with deposits of $87,000,000; 5 commercial banks with total deposits of $35,000,000; 5 co-operative banks with deposits of $10,385,000. These banks are well housed and progressive. Total deposits in all banking institutions are $135,000,000. Assessed valuation of property in Cambridge is $170,000,000. Tax exempt property over $190,000,000. Tax levy $7,300,000; state and county taxes $1,185,000. Tax rate is $43.00 per thousand. Bonded debt of city is $11,418,000. Postal receipts for 1940 were $1,338,311.73.

EDUCATIONAL—The public school system of Cambridge is in the first rank as befits a university city. There are 24 public schools including 2 high schools and total registration of 15,500 pupils, and 700 teachers. There are 10 parochial schools with 7,100 pupils and 162 teachers. Value of public school property is $5,481,900; parochial schools $315,198. Cambridge is the home of Harvard University, the oldest and most famous of all universities in America; it was named after John Harvard whose generosity toward Harvard transcended all others of that time; there are 8,000 students in the university including 3,500 in the college which is a part of the university; there are 1,800 in the faculty; Harvard has graduated over 75,000 in its history; endowment fund $134,000,000. Radcliffe college is for girls; Harvard faculty serves Radcliffe; there are 1,000 undergraduates and graduates; was founded in 1879; has 300 teachers; $5,044,268.39 endowment fund; named after Ann Radcliffe, the first woman to make a gift of money to Harvard; the names of over 7,500 former students appear on the records of the Alumnae Association. The Massachusetts Institute of Technology was founded in 1865 with headquarters in Boston; in 1916 this institution first occupied its present group of the finest buildings of their kind in the world; located on the Memorial Drive and facing the Charles River Basin, the beauty of the group is greatly enhanced by its setting; there are over 3,000 students with a faculty staff of nearly 500. The Sargent School of Boston University is located in Cambridge and adds much to this array of famous schools of higher learning. Altogether, there are 41 private schools, colleges and academies in Cambridge, with a student body of over 30,000 employing more than 6,000 teachers and staff and a building investment of over $55,000,000, which undoubtedly establishes Cambridge as the foremost educational center in America. There is an extensive public library system with a main building and 7 branches. Number of volumes is 175,000. There are 9 private libraries furnishing a very complete system of information on almost any subject. The City Directory Library is located at 500 Memorial Drive at the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce, and is maintained by H. A. Manning Company.

MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

RELIGIOUS AND BENEVOLENT INSTITUTIONS—There are 70 churches in Cambridge. These church edifices are well placed over the city serving all sections and neighborhoods. There are the following denominations with number for each: Baptist 10; Roman Catholic 13; Episcopal 9; Methodist Episcopal 9; Congregational 4; Presbyterian 3; Nazarene 2; Lutheran 2; Hebrew 3; Greek Orthodox 2; Christian Science 1; Armenian Evangelical 1; Swedenborgian 2; Swedish Evangelical 1; Spiritualist 1; Unitarian 2; Universalist 1; Miscellaneous 7. There are very active and well housed Y. M. and Y. W. C. A's. There are 7 homes and asylums. There are 13 religious schools and convents.

RECREATIONAL—Cambridge has 10 parks with a total acreage of 161.6, not including parkways, and valued at $1,865,380. Cambridge is also well supplied with playgrounds under the competent supervision of instructors. During the college season, Cambridge has an intense athletic atmosphere with all college sports competition including boat races on the Charles River. Football reaches its peak each year in late October and early November. Cambridge shares with the Metropolitan District its immense recreational facilities and it seems safe to say that no city of same size has more recreational opportunities than Cambridge. There are more than 100 cities and towns to compete with in school sports and all located within a distance of 60 miles. The beaches of the nearby shore resorts are easily accessible; the New England "Playground of the Nation" is in all directions, including summer and winter out-of-door pastimes.

MEMORIAL DRIVE

TRANSPORTATION—Cambridge has the service of two divisions of the Boston & Maine Railroad system and through interconnecting tracks the freight service of the Boston & Albany and the New Haven Railroad systems. The freight service over these rail lines is adequate to meet the needs of this large shipping center. Through the East Boston Airport there is local and transcontinental air service. Cambridge is headquarters for many large motor truck lines plying in all directions. There are many main highway arteries leading in all directions. Cambridge shares with all cities of the Metropolitan District the harbor with its coast and ocean shipping vessels. Cambridge has been a port of entry since 1814; it is bordered by the Charles River and intersected by several canals; there is a growing volume of water borne commerce. Highways Nos. U. S. 1 and 3 and Mass. 2 and 28 are through routes to mountain, lake, shore and country, as well as the hinterland.

When You Place Your Ad in the City Directory

You are not only talking to all persons looking for goods in your line, but are backing up all the other advertising you are doing or have done. Many times every day people are looking you up in the directory who have seen your advertisement elsewhere. The representation in the directory is your closing argument—should it be WEAK? We believe there is only one business answer to this.

Industrial Cambridge

Industry in Cambridge is almost as old as education. Here the first printing press in the Colonies started, and the birth of the great publishing industry was here. The first center aisle passenger coach was produced here. Great glass-ware factories employed 500 as early as 1850.

RAILROADS SERVE INDUSTRY IN CAMBRIDGE

As an industrial center Cambridge is in the pioneer class. At the very beginning of the settlement of the Colonies industry settled along the Charles River to take advantage of water transportation facilities. Here the first printing press in the Colonies started, and the birth of the great publishing industry was here. The first center aisle passenger coach was produced here. Great glass-ware factories employed 500 as early as 1850.

As Cambridge took a leading place in the making of history in the early days of America it is so doing today at an accelerated pace, and today its industrial greatness is not to be denied. Cambridge ranks third in industry among the cities of New England.

The rapid advance of Cambridge industrially came with improvement in transportation, and the reclamation of two square miles of tide covered low lands in the city. These two factors have had much to do with the growth of industrial Cambridge. The transition to an Industrial City began in 1870, when the reclaiming of the low lands began. There are now nearly 500 manufacturing concerns employing nearly 22,000 workers, and having as annual wage disbursement of nearly $00,000,000. The products amount to $185,000,000 per annum. Cambridge stands first in the country as a confectionery center, and very prominent in the manufacture of soap, bread, and other bakery products, printing and publishing, rubber goods, rubber boots and shoes, electrical machinery, apparatus and supplies, foundry and machine shop products, furniture, dictionaries, transformers and radio apparatus, oil burners, and over 500 other products which are too numerous to be mentioned in this limited space. For further details on products see page 7.

Cambridge offers great advantages to industrialists. It has everything to work with in labor market, transportation and facilities. There is a customer market of 30 million within 500 miles. Water transportation will deliver Cambridge-made products to Pacific coast and Mississippi river points at a lower rate than land transportation of 500 miles.

For further information about Industrial Cambridge write the Cambridge Industrial Association, or the Publishers of this Directory.

A BULLETIN OF IDEAS AND INFORMATION FOR BUYERS OF PRINTING
ISSUED MONTHLY BY THE MURRAY PRINTING COMPANY
AT KENDALL SQUARE, CAMBRIDGE, MASSACHUSETTS

FEBRUARY · 1941

EXPLANATORY

IN our January issue we announced that on March 1 we expected to have our plant located at 18 Ames Street. We understand the announcement came as a surprise to many of our customers, but perhaps none were more surprised than the announcers. Back in 1913, when we purchased land in Cambridge and had a building erected adapted to our printing plant, we planned that it was to be our final move. In the eighteen years of our business life before our advent in Cambridge, we had become experts in moving, always necessitated by events over which we had no control.

In our first quarters on Bromfield Street, our landlord made changes that were detrimental to our interests, and we shortly found ourselves located on Milk Street, next to the Old South Church. After two years here, we were informed that a large office building was to be erected on Washington Street, with the rear projecting down on Milk Street to the very space where we were trying to operate a printing plant.

We moved out just before the building was razed, and by rather hastily arranged plans the movers carried our plant down to Fort Hill Square. There we had a few years in which to settle down and find our way about, when suddenly, without warning, came the notice that our landlord needed more room for his own business, and we would have to vacate.

Our next move was to Atlantic Avenue, midway between Rowe's Wharf and State Street. Here we outlived a five-year lease, and negotiated a second lease for the same length of time. This was back in the days when property owners expected to realize a bit of profit on their realty investments, and when the return they expected was given more consideration than was the payee's ability to meet their expectation. But in spite of increased rentals, we outlived three landlords at that location, without being convinced that either one of the three could be branded a philanthropist. When we reached the breaking point we decided a building of our own was the only solution, and that took us to Cambridge; and we swore by all that was good and holy that this would be our last move.

In 1914 our two-story building was ready, and we moved in. Two years later along came a business acquaintance and prevailed upon us to add two stories to our building for their occupancy. We had this concern as tenants for fifteen years and then they floated out on the depression wave. In the next six or eight years we had opportunity to appreciate the plight of a landlord without tenants. It is not altogether a happy combination.

In the building adjoining ours, known as the Kendall Square Building, which we had a part in promoting, was a tenant whose middle name should have been Expansion. His continual call for more space eventually pushed two tenants from that building, and we took them in and kept them happy for about two years. And then Mr. Expansion blows into our office one morning and says, "I want your top floor, and I want it now." Well, he got it. A few months later, in he comes again. "Clear out your third floor. I must have it right away." We did,

Shall we put you on our mailing list?
